PREFACE

Several years ago, I found an old collection of Christmas carols on the Internet, originally published in the late 1800s, called Christmas Carols, New and Old, the music edited by Sir John Stainer and the words by Henry Ramsden Bramley. Just before Christmas 2010, I had this collection printed as a book through Lulu.com, and I enjoyed some of its more obscure carols enough that I thought I might combine them into a single volume containing Christmas carols from several different sources. So in early 2011, I set about creating such a book by simply taking pages from several old collections of Christmas music and combining them into a single volume. I thought briefly of taking the trouble of making new engravings of all the music, but it seemed an enormous task: though I had used a program called Lilypond to engrave music in the past, the amount of music I wanted to include would take many days of transcribing and proofreading, and it did not seem necessary at the time.

I had this collection ready (and in its third edition, the first edition having been merely a draft, and the second edition lacking Gaudete) in time for Christmas 2011, but after giving a few away as Christmas gifts, I decided that the book in its current form was not ideal, and worthwhile improvements could be made by making new engravings of all the music. Thus, I have taken the trouble of transcribing everything into Lilypond for this new edition. In this way, I have also been able to add nearly 60 more songs to the collection, including a handful of Advent hymns and two songs, Ring Out Wild Bells and Auld Lang Syne, in celebration of the new year, which always begins a week after Christmas. To make the book more affordable, I have published it through CreateSpace instead of Lulu, and in hopes that others may also find it useful, I have made it available for purchase on Amazon.com, where it should be easier to find.

In selecting the songs, I have tried to include all the public domain carols that are well-known, as well as those which I have found appealing. Some songs I sought out specifically, and others I had never heard before finding them in older collections while preparing the present volume, having looked through several such books, including The Cowley Carol Book (1919), The Cambridge Carol Book (1924), the aforementioned Christmas Carols, New and Old (1871), as well as the several Christmas carols found in Favorite Songs and Hymns for School and Home (1899). In a few cases I have slightly edited the music from the source arrangement, and in rarer cases I have slightly modified the text. In perhaps the rarest of cases, I have anonymously arranged a handful of the songs myself.

In ordering the songs, I have attempted to interleave the more well-known songs with those tending further toward obscurity. However, the obscure carols seemed to outnumber those I expect to be well-known, which led to a section beginning not long after the middle of the book consisting entirely of carols of relative obscurity. This is followed by a handful of carols of foreign origin, which are followed by a few more carols and part songs. However, these sections are rather nebulous and songs may occasionally seem out of place within the book.

In laying out the music, I have tried to avoid setting lyrics for additional verses too far below the music itself, because of the difficulty involved in continually glancing back and forth between the music and the words. Thus, some songs have the exact same music printed several times, sometimes with a chorus also doubled, though sometimes the chorus is given only once even when the verses are doubled.

In a few cases I have included the original foreign-language words as well as an English translation, but in other cases this was impossible, for Bramley and Stainer, while noting which texts were translations, were not so thoughtful as to include the names of the original texts, and I have only been able to find the source texts for a few of them. There are also a few foreign-language carols for which I have not included any English translation.

THE TRUTH FROM ABOVE

(Herefordshire Carol)

Traditional

Traditional

1. This is the truth sent from a - bove, The truth of God, the God of love.
 2. The first thing which I do re - late Is that God did man cre - ate;
 3. Then, af - ter this, 'twas God's own choice To place them both in Pa - ra - dise,
 4. But they did eat, which was a sin, And thus their ru - in did be - gin.
 5. Thus we were heirs to end - less woes, Till God the Lord did in - ter - pose;

There - fore don't turn me from your door, But — heark - en all — both rich and poor.
 The next thing which to you I'll tell Wo - man was made with man to dwell.
 There to re - main, from e - vil free, Ex - cept they ate — of such a tree.
 Ru - ined them - selves, both you and me, And all of their pos - ter - i - ty.
 And so a prom - ise soon did run That He would re - deem us by His Son.

6. And at this sea - son of the year Our blest re - deem - er did ap - pear;
 7. Thus He in love to us be - haved, To show us how we must be saved;
 8. "Go preach the Gos - pel," now He said, "To all the na - tions that are made!
 9. O seek! O seek of God a - bove That sav - ing faith that works by love!
 10. God grant to all with - in this place True sav - ing faith, that spe - cial grace

He here did live, and here did preach, and ma - ny thou - sands He did teach.
 And if you want to know the way, Be pleased to hear what He did say:
 And he that does be - lieve in Me, From all his sins I'll set him free."
 And, if He's pleased to grant thee this, Thou'rt sure to have e - ter - nal bliss.
 Which to His peo - ple doth be - long: And thus I close my Christ - mas song.

CRADLE HYMN

Isaac Watts (1674–1748)

1. Hush, my dear, lie still and slum - ber, Ho - ly an - gels guard thy bed,

3. Bless - ed babe! what glo - rious fea - tures— Spot - less fair, di - vine - ly bright!
4. Soft, my child, I did not chide thee, Though my song may seem too hard;
5. See the kind - er shep - herds round Him, Tell - ing won - ders from the sky!
6. Lo, He slum - bers in His man - ger, Where the horn - ed ox - en fed:

Heav - n'ly bless - ings with - out num - ber, Gen - tly fall - ing on thy head.
 When from Heav - en He de - scend - ed, And be - came a child like thee!
 Must He dwell with bru - tal crea - tures? How could an - gels bear the sight?
 'Tis thy mo - ther sits be - side thee, And her arms shall be thy guard.
 Where they sought Him, there they found Him, With His Vir - gin mo - ther by.
 Peace, my dar - ling; here's no dan - ger, Here's no ox a - near thy bed.
 Then go dwell for - ev - er near him, See his face and sing his praise!

Sleep, my babe; thy food and rai - ment, House and home, thy friends pro - vide;
 Soft and ea - sy is thy cra - dle, Coarse and hard thy Sav - ior lay:
 Was there noth - ing but a man - ger Curs - ed sin - ners could af - ford
 Yet to tell the shame - ful sto - ry, How His foes a - bus - ed their King;
 See the love - ly Babe a - dress - ing; Love - ly in - fant, how He smiled!
 'Twas to save thee, child, from dy - ing, Save my dear from burn - ing flame,
 I could give thee thou - sand kiss - es, Hop - ing what I most de - sire;

All with - out thy care or pay - ment: All thy wants are well sup - plied.
 When His birth - place was a sta - ble, And His soft - est bed was hay.
 To re - ceive the heav'n - ly Stran - ger? Did they thus af - front their Lord?
 How they killed the Lord of glo - ry, Makes me an - gry while I sing.
 When He wept, the mo - ther's bless - ing Soothed and hush'd the ho - ly Child.
 Bit - ter groans and end - less cry - ing, That thy blest Re - deem - er came.

'Twas in the Winter Cold

A Christmas Morning Hymn

Rev. Charles I. Black (1821-1896)

Joseph Barnby (1838-1896)

1. 'Twas in the win-ter cold, when earth Was de-so-late and wild,—
 2. Then in the man-ger the poor beast Was pre-sent with his Lord;—
mf 3. But I have not, it makes me sigh, One off-'ring in my pow'r;
 4. Grant me Thy-self, O Sav-ior kind, The Spi-rit un-de-filed,—
 5. Light of the ev-er-last-ing morn, Deep through my spi-rit shine;—

That An-gels wel-come at His Birth The ev-er-last-ing Child.
 Then swains and pil-grims from the East Saw, won-dered, and a-dored.
f 'Tis win-ter all with me, and I Have nei-ther fruit nor flow'r.
 That I may be in heart and mind As gen-tle as a child;
 There let Thy pre-sence new-ly born Make all my be-ing Thine:

cresc. From realms of ev-er bright-'ning day, And from His throne a-bove
 And I this morn would come with them This bless-ed sight to see,
 O God, O Bro-ther let me give, My worth-less self to Thee;
 That I may tread life's ar-duous ways As Thou Thy-self hast trod,
 There try me as the sil-ver, try, And cleanse my soul with care,

He came, with hu-man kind to stay, All low-li-ness and love.
 And to the Babe of Beth-le-hem Bend low the rev-'rent knee.
 And that the years which I may live May pure and spot-less be:
 And in the might of prayer and praise Keep ev-er close to God.
 Till Thou art a-ble to de-scry Thy fault-less im-age there.

THE STORY OF THE SHEPHERD

Gongora, a Spanish Carol

Joseph Barnby (1838–1896)

Translated by Archdeacon Churton

1. It was the ve-ry noon of night: the stars a-bove the fold, More sure than clock or
 2. O ne'er could nightin-gale at dawn sa-lute the ris-ing day With sweetness like that
 3. I roused me at the pier-cing strain, but shrunk as from the ray Of sum-mer lightning;

chiming bell, the hour of midnight told: When from the heav'n's there came a voice, and bird of song in his im-mor-tal lay: O ne'er were wood-notes heard at eve by all a-round so bright the splen-dor lay. For oh, it mas-tered sight and sense, to forms were seen to shine,— Still bright-ning as the mu-sic rose with light and love di-banks with pop-lar shade— So thrill-ing as the con-cert sweet by heav'n-ly harp-ings see that glo-ry shine,— To hear that min-strel in the clouds, who sang of Love Divine. With love di-vine the song be-gan; there shone a light se-rene:

 made; For love di-vine was in each chord, and fill'd each pause be-tween:
 vine, To see that form with bird-like wings, of more than mor-tal mien:

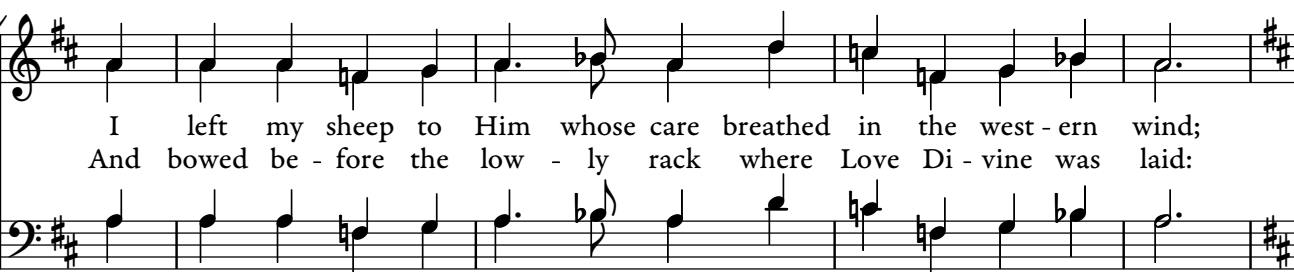

O, who hath heard what I have heard, or seen what I have seen? O, who hath heard what I have heard, or seen what I have seen?

4. When once the rapt-urous trance was past, that so my sense could bind,
5. I hast-en'd to a low-roofed shed, for so the An-gel bade;

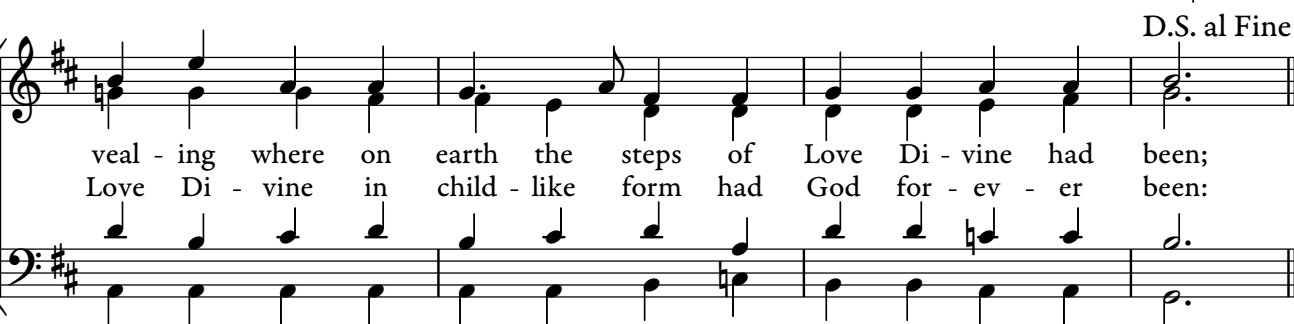

I left my sheep to Him whose care breathed in the west-ern wind;
And bowed be-fore the low-ly rack where Love Di-vine was laid:

I left them, for in-stead of snow, I trod on blade and flow'r, —
A new-born Babe, like ten-der Lamb, with Li-on's strength there smiled; —

And ice dis-solved in star-ry rays at morn-ing's gra-cious hour, Re-For Li-on's strength, im-mort-al might, was in that new-born Child; That veal-ing where on earth the steps of Love Di-vine had been;

Love Di-vine in child-like form had God for-ev-er been:
